

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

The Open Shutter Gallery, 735 Main Ave. Durango will exhibit the elegant black and white photography of Cara Weston and Jan-Oliver Wenzel. The show begins Friday, March 18th and continues through May 12th, 2011.

Cara Weston, daughter of Cole Weston and granddaughter of world-renowned photographer Edward Weston, lives in Carmel, California. Growing up in a world of photography, her desire to capture images was strong. Cara was also director of the Weston Gallery in Carmel for many years, and has curated multiple exhibits around the country. Cara has broken with family tradition and has embraced digital photography.

Jan-Oliver Wenzel lives in Munich, Germany. He was discovered by the Open Shutter Gallery last year during their international juried exhibit. The two major themes in Jan-Oliver's black and white darkroom work are, nature and architecture reflecting simplicity of light and form. Looking at his work the viewer gets a feeling of utter tranquility.

Please join us for the artists' reception and to meet Jan-Oliver and Cara on Friday, March 18th 5PM - 9PM. For more information contact the Open Shutter Gallery at 382-8355 or visit www.openshuttergallery.com
